

Would you like to host a Salon Fundraiser for Young Audiences?

Do you think you can bring 50 or more friends into your home and host a salon performance by one of the Young Audiences Arts for Learning master artists?

Young Audiences Arts for Learning of Eastern PA is looking for local business leaders in joining our network of fundraising supporters through a unique fundraising program through –

ARTS SALON - 101

If your home has a space conducive to hosting 50 or more guests, and you think you could find that many guests to attend, then we hope YOU will volunteer to host an event in your community. Funds raised from your event would be used to assist Young Audiences of Eastern PA to reach more students who are being severely impacted by the lack of arts programs in our regions schools, and the economy's impact on community organizations that provide accessible arts programming.

“What would I have to do?”

First, let us know you are interested in hosting an event, by emailing us at yaep@yaep.org.

Then - provide us with three potential party dates. We will link you with a board member who will assist you in planning your private fundraising event and assuring that a YAEP artist is available for the salon. During the event, we will send along a YAEP board member or staff member to share information about the organization.

Hosts:

- Invite guests and ask them to make a suggested donation.
- Provide refreshments and an event location large enough to host the event
- At the event, you will encourage your guests to make a larger donation in support of the arts.

WANT TO TAKE YOUR SUPPORT ONE STEP FURTHER? If you are gung-ho enough to take on planning a fundraising event to support bringing arts to all children, they are JUST who we want on the board of directors!
